What am I missing? A: You need to add the image to the view by using add method and pass in the image. var myImageView = Ti.UI.createView({ width: 'auto', height: 'auto', }); this.view.add(myImageView); myImageView.image = "someImage.png"; One side note, imageView.image = "someImage.png"; is a deprecated method and won't work in future versions. You should be using view.image = "someImage.png";. A: As you can see in documentation, you need to add the imageView as a child view, then set the image property. var myImageView = Ti.UI.createView({ width: 'auto', height: 'auto', }); this.view.add(myImageView); myImageView.image = "someImage.png"; And the other way around would be: var myImageView = Ti.UI.createView({ width: 'auto', height: 'auto', }); myImageView.image = "someImage.png"; this.view.add(myImageView); So, both approaches work and are correct.
